Faculty members, Raymond S. Morrill, Principal, and Bert A. Roens, Director of Guidance, assisted Mr. Darling answering questions raised by the panel and the audience.

WHIST PARTY ON OCT. 17

The Arlington Catholic women's Club will hold its next bi-weekly bridge and whist party on Tuesday, October 17, at two o'clock at American Legion Hall. The chairman is Mrs. John Talty.

Acting Police Chief James J. Flynn informed the PRESS yesterday that an inquest concerning the shooting of Ralph E. Borgatti, alleged prowler, by officer Arthur Guarente of the Arlington police will be held in the near future.

Judge Arthur P. Stone of the third district court of Cambridge will set the date.

Lt. Flynn also stated two witnesses will testify at the hearing that they heard Officer Guarente call Borgatti to halt prior to the shots being fired.

Guarente has been exonerated of the shooting and told he acted well within his rights according to James Coniff, detective of the State Police who investigated the case with Arlington inspectors.

Guarente's statement was also released by Acting Chief Flynn, who said, "After receiving a call from Mrs. Ellice Teevan of 274 Broadway that there was a prowler on the fire escape at 389 Massachusetts Av., two cars were sent to the scene. Officer Guarente arrived first."

"Flynn went on to say, 'Guarente saw the man on the fire escape and ordered him down, keeping his flashlight on the suspect as he was descending. When he neared the bottom of the fire escape Guarente told him to keep his hands up and get over toward the wall. The man, later identified as Borgatti, leaped at the officer from the fourth rung of the ladder, knocking him to the ground.'

"The officer called to him to halt but the man continued to run. Guarente fired a warning shot into the air and again called to the alleged prowler to stop. The man continued to make his escape and the officer fired the fatal shot."

TRINITY BAPTIST CHURCH to show the Christian Stewardship Film "Like a Mighty Army" on Sunday evening, October 15th at 8 o'clock. The Choir will sing under Organist and Choirmaster. All welcome.

Town Manager Plan Goes To Committee Firemen Lose Raise

The Town manager form of government was reconsidered and referred to a nine man committee, an increase in pay for the Arlington firemen was voted down, a special compensation for Town employees was sent to the committee and $25,000 was appropriated for extra Christmas lighting in the second and third sessions of the Special Town meeting.

The Wednesday night assembly of the Town meeting had to be cancelled, because of a lack of quorum. Only 116 members of the 254 man body were present 12 short.

The Town manager form of government which had been accepted at the first session went up for reconsideration last Wednesday night.

After due deliberation the members voted in favor of the finance committee motion which sent the entire plan to a committee of nine men for further study and rewording.

The plan as presented by Mr. Glynn was voted out after a speech by Mr. Hayes, chairman of the Finance committee and another by Mr. George Harris who claimed that if the Town should forward the plan as it stands, the State Legislature would vote on it in its present form and thus take all power away from the Town.

Plan Formation Of Beta Sigma Phi Chapter Here

Business girls in Arlington will be interested in an open meeting to be held soon by the Arlington chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, an international cultural and social club.

Aims and purposes of the organization will be discussed by members and a resume given of the outstanding social activities of the last year. Refreshments will be served. Those interested in obtaining further particulars may do so by contacting Jean Morrison, (Rush Captain) at Arlington 5-0970-M.

The civilian defense bill which was tabled at the first Monday night session was brought to the floor and passed after a resolution was adopted which gave the Town the power to cancel the bill whenever they saw fit.

Articles 13 through 19 were passed in order, having to do with zoning and various pay grade changes.

Article 20 in reference to an additional $2500 for Christmas lighting for the streets in Arlington center, the East Arlington and Arlington Heights shopping centers, was passed after a discussion by Mr. Leonard Woods of the Chamber of Commerce.

This bill is subject to action by State Tax Commissioner Henry Long.

The Arlington firemen, seeking a $2 a week raise ran into a lot of trouble.

Joseph McNamara spoke for the firemen as well as Mr. Vahey a Town meeting member. They showed how Arlington was paying its firemen under the sum which is paid in the surrounding cities and towns of comparable size.

Mr. Arthur Mansfield spoke for the Personnel board and said the board had no objection to the raise other than if given at this time it would ruin the pay classification plan which was voted in years ago.

A vote was then called for and the quorum questioned. A count was taken and there appeared to be only 116 members. A recess was called for five minutes.

After recess another count was 134 members were present.

Another vote was taken and the firemen lost but the quorum was again questioned by Mrs. George Harris.

The count was made again and a roll call vote taken. After counting the number that had voted at the roll call it was decided that only 116 were there and a quorum was not present. The meeting was adjourned until Monday night.

In Monday night's session a quorum seemed in attendance and in short order the fireman's raise was voted down and the 23d article calling for a special bonus for Town employees was ordered sent to a committee which will report at the next annual Town meeting.

It might be noted that the Personnel board said the firemen would come up for pay raises at the next annual Town meeting at the request of that board.

Eight Injured In Many Accidents In Arlington

A record number of week-end accidents in Arlington injured eight people, two of them fatally.

Saturday morning, two men, working on the construction at the Concord turnpike and Pleasant St. were struck down by a truck which was backing up to dump a load of hot tar.

Edward W. Rowland, 59, of 148 Lowell st., Lexington and Anthony J. Densman, 33, of 239 Water st., Brockton were working on the new surface at the Concord Pike and Pleasant st. when they were hit by the tar truck.

Both men were taken to the Symmes Arlington Hospital where their condition was reported as serious. Rowland died early Tuesday morning from his injuries.

Sunday, Robert Grosio, 11, of 16 Sylvia st., Lexington was treated at the Symmes hospital for injuries to his right hip after falling from his bike near 1180 Mass. ave. Monday night two accidents occurred almost at the same time sending the police ambulance to Appleton st. and the Concord pike and the fire department special service truck, Engine two and Ladder two to Gray st., and Highland ave.

Police reported that a car had attempted to make a left turn from the Concord pike onto Appleton st., when it was struck by another car heading west on the pike.

Traffic was tied up for over two hours while policemen removed four victims to the hospital.

Hazel Tobin of Lincoln driver of the west bound car was held at the hospital for a possible fractured ankle while Mr. John Evans of 39 Hiverness rd., driver of the other car was treated for concussions of the forehead and released. Two passengers in the Evans car were taken to the hospital; Leona Evans, 55, was reported in a serious condition being held for treatment of injuries to her skull, right knee and

A 24 year-old prowler was killed by an Arlington police officer Monday night when he resisted arrest after being discovered prowling on the third floor landing of a fire escape at the rear of the Colonial apartments at 389 Massachusetts Ave.

Ralph E. Borgatti, 24, of 14 Whittemore st., Arlington, an employee of the Waltham Lumber Co. was taken to the Symmes Arlington hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival by Medical Examiner Leo T. Miles. A bullet had entered his back and pierced his heart.

Lt. James Flynn of the Arlington Police department gave the following version of the shooting:

A resident of Broadway, Arlington saw a man climbing the fire escape about 7 p. m. and reported this to the police department.

Officer Arthur Guarente in car seven was sent to the scene as well as Sgt. James Ryan and Officer William White in car eight.

Guarente arrived first and ran to the back of the building. He saw the man on the third floor landing and ordered him down.

The young man descended the steps but as he was about three rungs from the ground he leaped at Officer Guarente, knocking him to the ground.

Borgatti allegedly raced across the back yard and started to leap a fence to run through an adjoining yard when Guarente ordered him to halt, firing a shot into the air.

The prowler kept on running and Guarente called to him to stop and then fired at the darkened form. He saw the man drop to the ground.

The Arlington man, a veteran of two years with the U. S. Navy, died almost instantly according to Medical examiner Leo T. Miles of Cambridge.

Sgt. Ryan and Officer White arrived on the scene as Officer Guarente was approaching the prostrate form of the prowler.

Ryan grabbed the victims' wrist to feel for a pulse beat while at the

24,270 Voters Registered For Coming Election

The Town Clerk's office announced that a total of 24,270 Arlington voters registered for the state elections as of the deadline, Oct. 6. They were broken down as follows:

Democrat— 5,750
Republican— 7,032
Independent— 11,488

There were 991 new voters. The total is considered relatively high for a state election. The only higher totals were 24,799 in the last Presidential election and 25,033 in Feb., 1949.

Two Town Meeting members resigned early this week. On Monday, Samuel Femia, 50 Norcross St., Precinct 5, withdrew giving no reason. Continued on Page Two

STRATEGY ANALYST

George Fielding Eliot, noted military expert and analyst, appraises developments on the fighting fronts in his "War Review" series on Mutual Sunday nights. In addition he participates in such MBS programs as the Monday night "War Front-Home Front" from Korea and other critical points noted as newsworthy.

following accounts of the incident: Mrs. Constance Childs, a resident of an apartment at 393 Massachusetts ave., told police she saw a man walking back and forth on the porch of 397 Mass. ave., about fifteen minutes before she heard shots in the back yard.

William McCarthy a resident of apartment 18 which is where the prowler was standing said, "I was eating my supper when all of a sudden I heard shouts in the back yard and then two shots. I ran out here and saw the man lying in the next yard with cops looking at him."

The superintendent of the building informed the PRESS that she heard two shots and ran up to see what had happened. "I came onto the first floor and saw everyone running out the front. When I got out there I saw them putting a body into the ambulance but I did not know what had happened until later. "She went on to say, "I don't see how he could have gotten in as we have just installed double windows on all of our windows."

Another unidentified man said he came out of the apartment and was going up Town. "I saw the people on the first floor talking to the people on the second floor and I know something was wrong." I went outside and saw them loading a body into the ambulance.

Almost all of the occupants of the apartments claim they heard the officer shout to the man to halt and then heard two shots.

Chief Archie Bullock, of the Arlington police dept. directed investigation procedures of the fatal Monday night shooting from his sick bed. The Chief has been confined to his bed with muscular contractions of his back. Lt. James J. Flynn is the acting chief of the department.

"Here's the Pitch"

By "Bump" Hadley

WBZ, WBZ-TV Sportscaster and Former Major League Pitcher

ALREADY LOCAL FANDOM has raised the old hue and cry. "Wait 'til Next Year," for their favorite Boston Braves and Red Sox. Both Braves and Red Sox front offices have all but promised changes, but despite the pleas of some fans for wholesale clearances even to the extent of trading such names as Ted Williams, Birdie Tebbets, Sid Gordon and Earl Torgeson - it is entirely unlikely that drastic shakeups will take place at either Fenway Park or Braves Field.

Naturally this is the time of year for all non-pennant winners to review their club's weak points and prepare to strengthen through purchases, trades or young blood from the farm systems.

The Braves have changed personnel more frequently in recent years than have their Red Sox brethren. But don't be surprised if the Red Sox turn the tables on their Beantown rivals this time.

The Red Sox are getting old. Now, in addition to their constant pitching problem, Bobby Doerr, Dom DiMaggio, Birdie Tebbets and Ted Williams are nearing the end of their baseball lives. And, the Red Sox farm system doesn't appear to be developing their replacements.

On the other hand, the Braves need that fourth starting pitcher plus a good year from Roy Hartsfield and one of their younger stars like Bob Addis to become a real pennant threat.

left wrist; Inez Evans, 29, was treated for contusions of the forehead and released.

Two trips were required of the Arlington police ambulance to take the injured to the hospital.

Meanwhile, the fire department responded to an accident on Gray st., near the corner of Highland ave.

It was reported that Robert H. Danskin, 72, of 11 Oakland ave., had become trapped between the open door of his car and a tree.

Firemen worked for ten minutes to extricate the man who had tried to keep his car from rolling back down the hill.

Mr. Danskin claimed that as he parked and left the car he noticed it rolling. He ran after the moving car, opened the door and tried to get in but the car turned trapping him between a tree and the left hand door of the car.

The injured man was rushed to the Symmes in the Special service truck.

Hospital authorities reported he suffered from a fracture of the pelvis and right shoulder, and his condition was very poor.

hostesses will be Mrs. Joslyn Weddleton, Mrs. Eric Reeves, and Mrs. Edward Gilbert.

Expanded Program At Museum Of Science

First project of an expanded education program at the Museum of Science, Science Park, will be a twenty-week course in the "Fundamentals of Astronomy," to start October 17, 1950.

Charles A. Federer, Jr., Director of the Museum's Planetarium, member of the staff of Harvard Observatory, and Editor of "Sky and Telescope," the world's leading popular astronomy magazine, will direct the course.

A former lecturer at the Hayden Planetarium in New York, Mr. Federer has covered astronomical news for the New York Times Science Service and also now edits "Weatherwise," popular magazine of meteorology. He has been active in promoting interest among amateur astronomers, is president of the Bond Astronomy Club at Harvard Observatory, and was chairman of the recent Wellesley convention of the Astronomical League which was attended by amateur and professional astronomers from all parts of the country.

The Museum course is intended to give a good grounding in the fundamentals of elementary astronomy, the laws of the universe and the methods used by astronomers to analyze the distant stars and galaxies.

This will be a serious course, open to high school graduates. The fifth edition of Robert H. Baker's "Astronomy" will be used as text. The Little Planetarium at the Museum and the Museum's large Zeiss telescope will be used to augment class discussion. The skies may be shown at any time of the night on any day of the year at any inhabited point on the earth's surface in the Little Planetarium. The telescope will be used for outdoor observation. One meeting of the class will be devoted to a visit

Those interested may learn about the course at an open meeting on October 17 at 7:30 p. m. at the Museum's Temporary Headquarters at Science Park. Registration will be limited and the course rate for Museum members is $15.00; for non-members, $18.00.

Issue Instructions On Civilian Defense

Repeating that "any shelter is better than none in protecting the individual from the dangerous effects of the heat and direct radiation of an atom bomb burst" but pointing out that because at the present time the provision in quantities of shelters "strong enough to give full protection against the effects of an atomic explosion... is neither economically nor practically feasible," State Civil Defense Director John F. Stokes, in an official bulletin on "Shelters" distributed throughout the Commonwealth, declared today that the "first responsibility of civil defense directors is to utilize resources."

Identified as Civil Defense Agency "Bulletin No. 3," the latest official communication between State Director Stokes and all local civil defense directors is five typewritten pages long and is divided into four sections. The sub-divisions deal with "private shelters; public shelters; buildings usable as shelters; characteristics of shelters."

Before discussing private shelters, Directors Stokes informed the local civil defense directors that: "A shelter strong enough to give full protection against the effects of an atomic explosion, even directly under the burst, is theoretically possible. The provision of such shelters in quantities adequate to contain the daytime population of our great cities is neither economically nor practically feasible, and there are, of course, no funds now available for such purposes. While future civil defense plans will doubtless provide for the selective and gradual construction of various types of shelters, the immediate problem is to organize for the most effective use of existing means of shelter. Obviously, the first responsibility of civil defense directors is to utilize existing resources. When this is assured, planning for the future will take its proper place.

With regard to private shelters, Defense Bulletin No. 3, states:

"In residential areas, the safest place for the householder to take shelter is in his own basement. If his house does not have a basement, he should arrange with a neighbor to share the neighbor's basement."

"Apartment house managers should select the most suitable sections of their basements, and set aside sufficient space to accommodate all the inhabitants of the building."

"Owners and operators of large department stores, office buildings, hotels, etc., should set aside sufficient space on basement and lower floors to provide shelter for the normal number of occupants during periods of peak activity."

"Directors of Civil Defense in target areas should survey population density in the closely packed business districts during the period of peak activity, and with this as a basis should then obtain the cooperation of building operators and owners in setting aside suitable basement and lower floor space as public shelters for the number of people likely to be in the area."

"An attempt should be made to provide shelter in each block for the people expected to be in that vicinity."

"Entrances should be marked in large letters: PUBLIC SHELTERS and large arrows pointing to the entrances should be painted on buildings. The capacity of each shelter should also be clearly marked outside the entrance."

"Subway and tunnel entrances should be plainly marked as 'Public Shelters.'"

Commenting on buildings usable as shelters, the bulletin points out that, "In general, the problem of providing shelter within a building is the same for an atom bomb as for the conventional TNT bomb. Fireproof, reinforced concrete or steel frame buildings are most suitable."

After listing 17 characteristics for a suitable shelter, the local directors, Director Stokes declared, "will wish to make sure that shelters selected are not so deficient in many or all of the characteristics as to make the shelter definitely unsafe for mass occupancy."

In conclusion Bulletin No 3 reminds all local directors that as soon as a shelter is designated, "Its location should be notified to the police and fire departments and to all appropriate civil defense sections." Director Stokes added: "Detailed maps should be on hand at a number of dispersed locations so that in the event of disaster, rescue squads will know exactly where each shelter is to be found."

"It is recommended that all target areas encourage the inclusion on all new buildings in congested areas, shelters of suitable speci-

Do You Know Massachusetts

Do you now that... Average weekly earnings per factory wage worker in Massachusetts during August reached an all-time peak of $56.21, as reported by the Department of Labor and Industries. The ten important manufacturing centers showing the highest average earnings per worker were: Lynn $65.47, Norwood $63.81, Beverly $63.71, Worcester $63.08, Chicopee $62.76, Pittsfield $62.09, Peabody $62.05, Quincy $61.49, West Springfield $61.29 and Framingham $61.28. Although food prices in Massachusetts are 90 per cent higher than in the five prewar years, 1935-1939, clothing 81 per cent, fuel and light 73 per cent, and sundries 45 per cent, the average of rents is up only 22 percent, as reported by Division of Necessities of Life. A million tons of rock hauled out of Hoosac Mountain nearly a hundred years ago in building the Hoosac Tunnel, will provide raw material for a new rock crushing establishment in North Adams. New orders received during August by Massachusetts manufactures of durable goods amount to 141 per cent more than a year ago, Associated Industries reports. U. S. Department of Commerce estimates that $477,900,000 of new construction in basements and on lower floors to provide accommodations for the estimated normal number of occupants during peak activity periods.

"Occupants of private dwellings in target areas should be encouraged to develop adequate basement shelters."

"It is requested that the plans presented to the State Civil Defense Agency by each Director of a target city outline the provisions made for shelter, and that periodic reports thereafter, record the progress in the designation and marking of shelters."

Women Drivers May Study On Care Of Autos

Opening of a class for women drivers in "How to Get Along With Your Car," is scheduled shortly at Arlington high school under the direction of the Adult Education Division of the Vocational School.

The course will be held two afternoons weekly for about 20 women. Applications may be made at the high school with Mrs. James Boyd or Charles Patterson, Director of the Vocational School.

Changing tires, fixing spark plugs, and general information about the operation and care of a motor vehicle will be included in the course.

was started in the Commonwealth last year, of which private residences amounted to 37 per cent. The Massachusetts Federation of Planning Boards will hold their annual meeting in Springfield October 27-28. The planning boards in Lexington, Petersham and Wal-tham are preparing complete revisions of their communities' zoning by-laws.

Fischer Coached Eleven Gets Brilliant 21-0 Decision in Big Game: Kelley Injured

FRANK MAHONEY

The Red and Gray of Arlington High was defeated 21-0 before some 8000 fans at Athletic Field in Waltham, Saturday by a highly touted, definitely superior, three touchdown better Watch City eleven.

The game opened with Arlington High playing the part of the favorite in the highly publicized game.

The Arlington club was shooting for its 16th straight win but the Fisher coached Waltham club which suffered its only loss to Arlington High last year was really up for the game.

The 1949 game meant a State

Championship for the Waltham club and its loss was a bitter defeat. They came on the field Saturday to make up for the loss in one of the hardest fought games to be witnessed in schoolboy football this fall.

IRONICAL INJURIES

Arlington, ironically enough, went into the game with a definite handicap the same as Waltham did in 1949. Paul Salisbury, was suffering from an injured hip and Al Tartarini had a seriously sprained ankle.

Added to these injuries was Dick Kelley, mainstay of the Arlington line, who received a fractured leg early in the first period thus upping the Arlington handicapp.

Tartarini could not play the entire four periods and was forced to play off and on during the game. Salisbury played the entire game but he was not the "Red" Salisbury known to Arlington fans. He could not dodge and weave nor hit the line with usual power.

ALBERTELLI STARS

Arlington won the toss to open the game and elected to receive. Waltham kicked and Muello picked it up on the Arlington 15 where he was hit. In three downs they moved the ball to the twenty and were forced to kick.

Waltham's Ed Beck took the ball on the Waltham 46 where he was knocked down. In a series of plays topped by a fifteen yard holding penalty Waltham lost ground to their 35.

Waltham elected to kick but Larry Albertelli stormed through the Waltham line and blocked the kick, Arlington recovering on the Waltham 37.

Arlington moved the ball to the Waltham 31 before losing it on downs and thus lost an excellent opportunity to score.

Arlington again missed a scoring opportunity when Terrasi fumbled the ball on the Arlington 37 and it was recovered by Doyle.

The Arlington club went on the march with Bill Kenealy tossing a pass to Charlie Oppedisano which was good for fifty three yards putting the ball on the Waltham ten yard line. In two plays the Red and Gray was thrown for a six yard loss as Kenealy attempted a forward pass which was not good and the Arlington club lost the ball on downs.

WALTHAM MARCHES

The Watch City boys took over on their own 15 at the opening of the second quarter. They marched to their own 28 before kicking. Arlington took the ball on their own ten and moved to their 12 before kicking.

Waltham took over on their 45 and ran the kick back to the Arlington 29. Terrasi then took the ball on two plays but he fumbled on the Arlington 17 with Albertelli recovering. Arlington took over and got to their 35 when a fifteen yard penalty took the ball back to their 13 as a back was illegally in motion. Kenealy then attempted a

Brookline Next For Battered Local Team

Brookline High is the next team on the list for the injury ridden Arlington high gridsters.

Coach Henry Toczylowski reported this week that Paul Salisbury, Joe Daly, Dick Kelly and Don Dolan will not even dress for the game, having been crippled in the Waltham fiasco.

In commenting on the Waltham game Toz said he cannot possibly see how they scored 14 of their 21 points. He reviewed the movies of the game and just shook his head in amazement. "I'll give them the one they scored in the third quarter, but that first one was just plain luck."

Harry Downes' Brookline squad should not offer much competition even for the Arlington second squad, who will probably see a lot of action Saturday.

The Brookline eleven has not won a game this season. Losing to Weymouth, 40-0, to Saugus, 20-0, and tieing with Fitchburg. However, they gave the 1949 champs a lot of trouble for a couple of quarters. The probable starting lineup will be;

pass but it was intercepted by Cliff Porier of Waltham who ran the ball to the Arlington three yard line.

Terrasi took the ball over for the first TD and then kicked the point.

The third quarter opened with Waltham - 7; at the half.

SECOND TALLY

The third quarter opened with a bang. Arlington kicked off to Waltham and the ball was received on the Waltham 35 yard line by Terrasi who romped through the entire Arlington squad for 65 yards for the second tally. He kicked the point and Waltham lead 14-0.

This score took the heart out of the Arlington squad and the odds on the game soared all in favor of Waltham.

This was the only score in this period but a startling series of fumbles on the Waltham 43 overtook the game.

Salisbury fumbled for Arlington on the 43 and Terrasi recovered. On the next play Terrasi fumbled and Hayes recovered for Arlington, on the Waltham 43. Then O'Brien fumbled and the ball was still on the 43.

The Waltham club penetrated to the Arlington 16 before the Red and Gray took over and got back to their own 35.

THE CLINCHER

Waltham opened the fourth quarter with Terrasi racing from the Arlington 35 to the 30. Beck carried on the next play to the 20 and then Arlington held.

Arlington took over but Egan lost ground to the ten when he was trapped behind the line of scrimmage. On the next play he fumbled and lost ground to the four. O'Brien kicked out to the 42 and Waltham had possession.

Beck moved ten yards to the Arlington 32 on the net play and then he carried the ball three times for the final touchdown. Terrasi kicked the point and the score read Arlington - 0. Waltham - 21.

The Waltham club used a tele-day. A man watched the Arlington A man watched the Arlington squad from the top of the Press box and reported weaknesses to the bench. The result of this business could be seen in the second period when the Waltham club moved into a six man line on defense and stopped the Arlington end runs cold.

The Waltham club made excellent use of the T formation. There were three different occasions when the ball could not even be followed.

SPOTS ON SPORTS

The PRESS picks as its players for the day; Pal Salisbury and Don O'Brien in the backfield and Hayes in the line.

It was hoped that Arlington park department officials noted the excellent facilities for the PRESS offered by the Athletic department at the Waltham field. . . . .

The PRESS feels that the Waltham club will meet its down fall this year against Brokton on Thanksgiving day. Arlington still had a chance. . . . Lets make up for the defeat at Waltham. . . Win all the rest. . . .

Ironically, Lowell's co-championship eleven fell from the unbeaten ranks on Sunday to Manchester Central, New Hampshire titans, and the big game November 11 now looms as just a great football contest instead of a battle for a state title. Harry Arlanson's Weymouth team shapes up as Waltham's greatest title threat.

Coach Toczylowski had praise for Terrasi's brilliant defensive play. Time and again the plucky try to nail Don O'Brien at the line of scrimmage. His kick-off runback was the back breaker, however.

Over Winchester Way, a Class B. title is in prospect with Marblehead and Revere knocked off. Winchester's Class C. opponents may eventually ruin them in the point system.

Dick Kelley, 210 pound right tackle was hospitalized Saturday night as the result of a leg injury received on the field. Hospital authorities said it was a probable fracture of the leg.

Paul Salisbury aggravated a hip injury received in the Leominster game. He was not hospitalized but it was doubted that he would be in the lineup this week.

Moose Muello and Don O'Brien received bad blows in the game Saturday. However, according to the team physician there was no serious injury.

Doctor Campobasso, team physician said he did not see much of the game for he spent all afternoon fixing wounds.

WEDDINGS and ENGAGEMENTS

ROBERTSON- THOMPSON

Shaggy white chrysanthemums, white gladiolus and ferns adorned the altar of the First Baptist Church, Arlington, Saturday evening, October 7, for the pretty candlelight, autumn wedding of Miss Dorothy E. Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Robertson of Cambridge, formerly of Arlington, and Mr. Robert G. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson of Brighton. The Rev. Nathan W. Wood performed the double ring ceremony.

Preceded by five attendants, the bride, wearing a portrait gown of Skinner satin of ivory color, fashioned with a lace panel in the skirt front and a cathedral train, was escorted to the altar by her father. A lace Juliet cap held in place her fingertip veil of tulle, and she carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Joan Cameron of Arlington, maid of honor, complemented her silver green satin gown with a tiny matching cloche hat with tulle veiling and a colonial bouquet with three tiny candles, as did the bridesmaids, similarly gowned but in champagne satin. The group included Miss Marion Thompson of Brighton, sister of the groom, Miss Eleanor Beck and Miss Phyllis Merrill both of Arlington. Miss Joyce Hepburn of Arlington, flower girl for the bride, was gowned in rose satin with a matching Juliet cap with tulle veiling and she carried a basket of mixed flowers.

With her gown of dusty rose satin, Mrs. Robertson wore a matching hat and a corsage of pink tea roses and forget-me-nots. Mrs. Thompson was gowned in aqua lace with a matching satin hat and wore a corsage of yellow tea roses.

Mrs. Joseph Thompson of Cambridge, brother of the groom, was best man and the ushers, in full formal attire, were Mr. John A. Robertson of Somerville, brother of the bride, Mr. William Mackey of Brighton, Mr. Robert Sullivan of Brighton, and Mr. Frank Viano of Allston.

Mr. Harvey R. Davies of Stoneham was the organist and Miss Gertrude Mellen of Arlington, contralto soloist, sang "Because, The Lord's Prayer", and "I Love Thee". After receiving their friends at Music Hall in Winchester, the couple left on a motor trip to Canada. The bride's going away outfit consisted of a green and brown pin check suit with brown accessories with a corsage of yellow tea roses.

Stearns Addresses Local Legionnaires

Dr. A. Warren Stearns of Billerica, Republican candidate for Sheriff of Middlesex County, stressed the "Modern Concepts of Criminology" in an address given before 100 legionnaires of Arlington Post 39 on Tuesday evening, Oct. 10th, after their business meeting at American Legion Hall.

"There should be a constructive program dealing with crime as there has been in dealing with disease," he said, pointing out the benefits of such a parallel. In the period of confinement, Dr. Stearns pointed out, the convict should be considered firstly, an individual possessing traits and personality which can be approached and guided towards a prosperous goal in his contacts with society later on. To insure such treatment, case workers, trained professionally in this type of work, must have complete freedom from political patronage, from anything which could alter the object of their task.

As it stands, he former Massachusetts Commissioner of Correction continued, the troublesome traits of the convicted persons are allowed to lie dormant during the period of their sentence, "going out with what he or she came in with. By personal treatment, the individual will be able not only to face society with a healthful attitude but a constructive one as well.

The roots of crime are not buried so deep that personal interest, constructive treatment, cannot transplant them towards future happiness.

The Arlington Jewish Community Center is holding its annual Harvest Supper and Square Dance on Tuesday, October 17, 1950, at 7:00 P. M. at the American Legion Hall, 370 Mass. Avenue, Arlington. The program is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Lovey.

Lawlor-Cook

Miss Barbara Irma Cook of 328A Longwood Ave., Boston, daughter of Mrs. Earl F. As you read this, you may be sitting next to other people. If these people don't know who you are, you mean no more to them than a shadow.

Our Friends are simply those features we recognize, and whose characteristics we know. This rule of acquaintance applies to goods as well as people. We buy the article or the package or the brand we are familiar with because we know it — just as we nod to the men and women we know, and ignore strangers.

THEREFORE

If you don't advertise and bring your firm to the fore, you are just one of the thousands of firms in your type of business.

An advertisement is primarily an introduction and secondarily a salesman. It makes new friends and holds old ones. It makes people know your firm and regard you in a friendly light.

To stop advertising is to stop greeting old friends and to stop making new ones.

Jewish Appeal Drive Workers Hold Breakfast

Arlington will be well represented at the "Austerity Breakfast" to be held by the Combined Jewish Appeal Women's Division at the Hotel Bradford on Wednesday, October 18, according to Mrs. Eli Reingold, local chairman for the event.

All women who give $100 or more to the 1950 Combined Jewish Appeal campaign will be eligible to attend the "Austerity Breakfast," she said. Chief beneficiaries of the drive are the United Jewish Appeal, which maintains relief programs in Israel and the DP camps and helps newcomers adjust in this country, and the Associated Jewish Philanthropies, 22 local health and welfare services. In addition the funds raised in this campaign support close to 200 national and overseas agencies.

"Austerity Breakfast" chairman from 29 Greater Boston communities met at Pinebrook Country Club, Weston, Friday to report on progress. Mrs. Sidney R. Rabb, Women's Division campaign vice-chairman in charge of special solicitation, urged all present to continue to recruit contributors for the breakfast. "We must raise at least 20 per cent more than we did last year in order to meet the critical needs of Jews throughout the world," she declared, calling for coverage of cards by final report meeting.

Not only every woman who attended last year to be present, but we must find new givers, to do our part in reaching the $7,680,000 goal which has been set for the 1950 Combined Jewish Appeal campaign.

Women who wish to attend the "Austerity Breakfast" may make their contribution through the chairman in their own community, or by calling Combined Jewish Appeal headquarters, Liberty 2-8080, located at 72 Franklin Street, Boston.

Learns Son Is Hero—Wounded In Letter

INDEFATIGABLE

With war news constantly in the public's consciousness, Gabriel Heatter is now heard in a new Sunday night series of commentaries over Mutual. This is notable because it's in addition to his regular Monday through Friday night observations on the latest news of the world.

Selectmen's Notes

The Inspector of Buildings reported a weekly total of $53,510 in building permits.

The usual Sunday theatre and restaurant licenses were granted.

Frances Carlson, 15 Wright St., was selected juror for a jury poll on Nov. 6.

The Chief of Police has requested the Selectmen to ask the Director of Civil Service in this region to set up an examination for patrolmen.

J. Philip Bower was appointed Coordinator in the Board of Health in the Civil Defense program.

Our Civil Defense program has received the full approval of Governor Dever.

Marguerite M. Ryan, 29 August Rd., was appointed substitute election officer for Precinct 4.

The Selectmen have received a request from the National Citizens' Committee to observe United Nations Day on Oct. 24.

The Committee suggested that bells be rung.

The Engineering Dept. last Monday night appointed Wilbur H. Robie, Town Civil Engineer—Grade 4.

Two Northeastern students were given provisional appointments as Town Engineer—Grade 1. They are:

"Save Money and Do It Now"

Warning On Autumn
Driving Dangers

"The great beauty and splendor to be observed along every Massachusetts highway during the month of October will lure thousands of motorists into the country seeking the ever-changing scenery of early fall. It is traditional migration and a true heritage of all New Englanders", state Registrar of Motor Vehicles Rudolph F. King and Chief of Police Archie F. Bullock of Arlington in a joint release issued today.

"But October also presents problems of serious concern to the accident prevention agencies of the Commonwealth and every one of its communities. It is a month of special hazards created by Mother Nature herself in the form of changing weather conditions, fallen leaves, and early darkness," say these officials.

"As in years gone by, we can expect accident statistics to begin their increase during October. The danger of wet, fallen leaves creates a hazard from skidding and hours of earlier darkness add to the perils which threaten the safety of children who use play areas in or adjacent to highways.

"Accidents to children can be prevented. Motorists must be alert for the pile of leaves along the side of the road—several children were killed while playing in leaves in October. And the danger of large paper cartons which years ago proved to be death traps for two tiny tots who were at play inside them, must not be overlooked by motorists.

"Parents must assume their full share of responsibility in protection of their children, never relaxing for a moment the vigilance so necessary for the preservation of our future citizens. With parents, motorists, and accident prevention authorities co-ordinating their efforts,

New Car Insurance Plan Would Cost Arlington $35,000

A flat rate for compulsory automobile insurance would cost the town of Arlington some $35,000 a year in increased insurance premiums, for its compulsory automobile insurance, Mr. John E. Barton, of Cambridge, an executive of the Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty Company, told the Arlington Lions Club at a meeting here on October 9.

Unless the flat rate is defeated by the Voters on Election Day, it will mean money gone from Arlington just as surely as though it were a state tax," Mr. Barton pointed out. "It is money that would otherwise help make jobs and stimulate business in the community. But under a flat rate, it would go to pay for the cost of accidents caused by drivers in other communities. Nothing could be more unfair than that."

Mr. Barton emphasized that the present Community Merit Rating System is based not on where accidents occur, but on who causes them. "If passed, the flat rate scheme will cost every Arlington car owner between $3 and $4 more each year for his compulsory automobile insurance. For this reason, if for no other, he said, "the interests of Arlington will be best served by defeat would profit from this measure, and 330 towns would suffer, the bill was defeated in both the Senate and the House. Nevertheless, supporters of the measure, by gathering 25,000 signatures on an initiative petition were able to place the issue on the ballot.

"If it is passed, the flat rate scheme would set a rate of at least $30.00, more likely $32.00 or $33.00, for the entire state. This means that every Arlington driver who now pays only $29.10 for insurance - would pay up to $4 more a year. It would also mean that every driver in a high-rated community like Revere would pay less. In effect, this means Arlington drivers vers would be paying for the reek of the flat rate scheme at the polls on Election Day, November 7.

"But make no mistake about it," he warned. "To beat this thing, you've got to vote yourself, see that your family votes NO on Question No. 5. Otherwise, the high raters are going to put this unfair scheme over on you. There are a lot of them, and they're going to vote to take your money away from you."

"Massachusetts is the only state which now has compulsory automobile insurance," Mr. Barton pointed out, "but all the other states use the same method of setting rates for this kind of insurance. In Massachusetts, however, the State Insurance Commissioner not the companies, adopted the present Community Merit Rating Plan for setting rates by cities and towns."

"Of course, only accidents for which its drivers are responsible are charged against a town. For example, if a Revere driver injures a pedestrian in Arlington, Revere, not Arlington is charged with the accident. The Insurance Commissioner of Massachusetts sets the rates, based on this accident information."

"Some months back, a bill was introduced in the Legislature, by interested parties, to set one uniform insurance rate for the whole state. This was the flat rate scheme. Because only 21 of the towns now paying a high rate unless driving of Revere drivers."

"It also means that up to $35,000 in higher insurance premiums will be taken from the pockets of our approximately 12,000 car-owning citizens as our share of the $4,

Hadassah Holds Opening Meeting

The first meeting of the 1950-51 season of the Arlington Chapter of Hadassah was held at the Arlington 500,000 and more that the high raters are trying to gouge out of the rest of the state.

"But there is another and far more important danger in the flat rate scheme. It will almost certainly result in more accidents, by destroying one of the incentives that communities now have to reduce accidents among their drivers."

Accident prevention starts at the community level, and is always level because communities control the factors that make for safer driving - proper driver education, proper traffic controls, adequate policing and strict enforcement of traffic ordinances, etc., Mr. Barton said.

"Arlington has already proved more effective at the community that rates can be lowered this way. Our 1950 rate of $29.10 compares with $30.40 in 1948. Under the present plan, we can continue to drive it lower and at the same time make Arlington a safer place to live - help Arlington drivers to avoid accidents."

"This fight against the flat rate will not be easy," Mr. Barton declared. "A large number of voters will gain financially if the flat rate succeeds. Therefore, we who will lose must VOTE NO on QUESTION No. 5 November 7. Otherwise we are voting to tax ourselves $35,000 from which we can receive no possible benefit."

ton Academy of Music on Tuesday evening, October 3rd. Mrs. Myer Berman, President, welcomed the members and the visiting guests.

Miss Sibyl Soroker, feature writer of the Jewish Advocate, speaking in behalf of the Combined Jewish Appeal, gave an interesting account of her recent trip to Israel and stressed the need for funds to aid the refugees still pouring in from many countries. Miss Soroker expressed great admiration for the active part Hadassah is taking in the building program and rehabilitation work.

Mr. Leslie Browning, well known epicurean, delighted the capacity audience with his talk on "Food is Fun" and the trays of colorful hors-d'oeuvres and appetizing canapés he prepared.

Concluding the meeting was an apron parade which brought forth many novel creations for the apron bar at the annual fair scheduled for Monday, October 16th. Prizes awarded to Mrs. James A. Stine for the prettiest and to Mrs. Harry M. Kerp for the most unique.
